Scoop! This is a Diana's House!

Yellow facing

I got information, there is a Diana model House in Japan!

Neat idea isn't it?

Kagawa Family's House in Japan.

He says

1. He has a good memory of honeymoon in P.E.I.

2. Montgomery's story is so beautiful and interesting.

His wife's favorite character is Diana in the story.

Green Gables in the story is very simple but, Diana's family is plentiful home then he thought it is still applicable to the present day.

But, no Diana's house model in P.E.I. How?

His opinion

Why Japanese people only build Green Gables? It's boring. We should have more idea! I agree with him.

Idea's of P.E.I. House!

Tales and Tunes

Five-day festival of storytelling and songs returns for second year to Victoria Playhouse

The second annual Victoria Playhouse Festival of Tales and Tunes will run from Tuesday September 23 to Saturday September 27. The festival opens with an encore performance of Here On The Island, the popular storytelling show which features storyteller David Weale and musicians Allan Rankin, Perry Williams and Brad Fremlin.

On Wednesday September 24 the Festival welcomes the debut appearance of Ross, MacInnis & MacDonald, from the Mt. Stewart area of the Island. This four member group features Jonathan Ross on keyboard, Billy MacInnis on fiddle and Jocelyne and Linda MacDonald, vocals. Jonathan plays with the Ross Family at the weekly ceilidhs at St. Andrews chapel in Mt. Stewart and at the Old School in Stanhope. MacInnis is a dynamic fiddler whose reputation is well established in the eastern PEI. Linda MacDonald says the concert will feature "traditional Celtic music that tells a tale."

Two Alans & an Erskine will reprise their sold-out performance on Thursday September 25. Their hilarious folk stories of the Island have entertained audiences for the past two years. The original songs and fine musicianship provided by Alan Rankin round out the trio and provide a unique insight into life on the Island.

Nils Ling brings Fiddlin' With The Truth to the Victoria stage Friday September 26. The hilarious and touching storytelling show features highlights from his two previously acclaimed shows, with the added dimension of the toe-tapping fiddling of Ling's daughter Allison.

The performance on September 27 & 28 will be announced shortly. A complete listing will be printed in Island newspapers in September.
